Young Stanley Hurt.

Newton Stanley, the young man on the motor cycle, is a nephew of P. E. Stanley, who drove a Stanley to the top of Mount Washington last summer, making the first trip above the cloud in an automobile. Mr. Stanley, of the accident, said that he heard a roar behind him, and that that he heard a roar behind him, and that next he knew he was thrown and one pedal of his machine was gone. He sustained a compound fracture of the lower left leg. He will be taken to a hospital in St. Augustine to-morrow, where Dr. I. G. Warley, the chief surgeon, will attend to his injuries.

At a lato hour to-night Frank Croker was reported by Dr. Parks to be getting along nicely. He is entirely conscious, but is being kept quiet. His mother and sister will reach, here to-morrow, when it will be decided whether he will be taken to New York or to the railway hospital at St. Augustine. The nature of the injury to the bones in his clow is such that wiring is necessary. Sir Thomas Dewar, of London, reached here to-night.

Democrats Deserted Him.

The "Take" Nows Leader, with large red letters across the front page, which were sold on the streets of Richmond yesterday, were not issued by the News Leader Company, and were not intended to be sold.

The management of the Bijou Theatre arranged for a number of copies of the News Leader for special advertising purposes. The understanding was that an announcement of a new play was to be printed across the front page at a job printing office, and that the papers were to be distributed like hand-bills, free. No suggestion of harm or deceit appeared in this proposition. The Bijou Democrats Deserted Him.

Mr. Williams becames displeased with the Democrats with orted against him, and for the provision in the military bill which declares that no retired army of the rendered while on the retired list. Though the was drawn by Republicans and almed at General Miles, who has recontly become adjutant-general of Massachusetts, they are to be distributed like hand-bills, free. No suggestion of harm or deceit appeared in this proposition. The Bijou who put irons on the limbs of his prisoner, the President of the Confederacy, This is undoubtedly what moved the Democrats to break with the minority leader.

"Mr. Slayden and myself should be offended, and not Mr. Williams," said Representative Hay, chairman of the Democratic caucus, to-day. "We were the Democratic members of the Committee on Military Affairs, and voted for the amendment. It is customary for the Democrats to support their members of the committee which reports a bill. Mr. Williams has not received in a very gracious manner those who tried to dissuade him from his purpose to resign. He is not in his usual good humor today, but it is believed he will not press the matter of a caucus for the purpose of acting on his resignation.
